FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY APPOINTS SENIOR ADMINISTRATOR

MONTREAL / February 21, 1985 --- Concordia University has appointed Francis Rae Whyte to be its new Vice-Rector (Academic). His five year term begins May 1, 1985. Dr. Whyte replaces Dr. Russell Breen, who is retiring after 17 years of combined service with Concordia University and Loyola College, one of the University's two founding institutions.

Dr. Whyte is currently Associate Vice-Rector for Faculty and Student Affairs at Université Laval.

The 41-year-old linguist and translator has also worked at the University of Waikato in Hamilton, New Zealand, and at the Université du Québec à Trois-Rivières, first as Chairman of the Modern Languages Division, then as Associate Dean of Studies and Research, and then Dean of Graduate Studies and Research.

Dr. Whyte was educated at the University of Auckland and Université Laval.
